The purpose of the Bachelor of Commerce in Human Resource Development Honours programme is to broaden students' Human Resource Development knowledge within a business framework so as to develop a thorough understanding of Human Resource Development theory as well as the skills necessary to apply the theory.

The programme will prepare students for entry into, or development of, existing careers in Human Resource Management in the private and public sectors.

THE PROGRAMME SPECIFICALLY AIMS TO:

Provide students with practical, work-related orientation which draws upon a sound theoretical base;

Provide students with frameworks within which a broad understanding of the Human Resource Development discipline is examined;

Provide students with a holistic view of organisations, their environment and functioning; and Human Resource Development's role therein;

Recognise that students, as managers in both private and public sector organisations, need to be able to deal with a rapidly changing environment;

Emphasise the importance of team work by students.

ONLY ONLINE APPLICATIONS WILL BE CONSIDERED!

Modules that will be covered, will include but are not limited to Training and Development, The Management of Human Resource Development, Special Topics in Industrial Relations, Employee Relations and the Law as well as Employee Wellness and Mindfulness.
